Engineering and Mining Journal

Index to Volume 133 - - January to December, 1932

Explanatory Note

THE general index to this volume is preceded by a list of the editorials published in the volume, and is followed by an index of authors. In the general index editorials are denoted by the letter "e" and news items by the letter "n." Following is a list of the pages included in the numbers of the volume by date:

January	1 to 70
February	71 to 132
March	133 to 192
April	193 to 252
May	253 to 312
June	313 to 362
July	363 to 412
August	413 to 458
September	459 to 506
October	507 to 554
November	555 to 602
December	603 to 650

EDITORIALS

Additional markets for the mine operator 71
Adjusting employment to new conditions 555
Adverse business conditions stimulate research 195
Air conditioning aids to efficiency and economy underground 254
Air transportation as an economy measure 72
Applying research in solving underground problems 196
Asbestos industry faces intensive competition e4
At the parting of the ways 315
Australian gold mining on the upgrade 4
Available information and technical success 135
Avoidance of waste is good engineering 194
Careful writing and poor engineering 314
Clarification in practice and description 194
Comfort of worker determines his efficiency 313
Copper industry attacks its problems 2
Copper industry makes a new stand 71
Developing an international testing screen series 364
Developing new markets with processed minerals 363
Economic recovery and the capital goods industries 603
Economy trends in handling drill steel 253
Engineering announcements in the newspapers 255
Engineering principles in accident prevention 313
Expected gold output has materialized 364
Facing facts regarding silver 73
Flotation cyanidation for gold-silver ores 413
Geophysical prospecting indicates Rand extension 604
Germany provides a lesson in regulation 3
Gospel of "it can be done" 3
Internal vs external force in rock crushing 135
Inventive opportunity and first principles 603
Looking backward or forward in plant operation 134
Low-cost production and natural advantages 605
Making alloy steel at the mine 214
Metallurgical technique and increasing gold production 196
Metals and minerals in house construction 507
Mill equipment transport effected by airplane 415
More light on wet extraction processes 508
New roads to recovery by increasing opportunity 2
No-accident records in mines and plants 414
Oxygen free copper reaches production stage 133
Planned research and industrial control 555
Preparing for economical and efficient production 604
Prevention follows recognition of silicosis hazard 413
Publicity and the dust abatement problem 605
Recovering a soluble from gangue material 365
Reducing accidents by improving health 605
Reducing costs by abandoning the gold standard 1
Reducing the incidence to tuberculosis 556
Responsibility for technologic unemployment 414
Rock crushing by gravitational fall 193
Russia must watch production costs 195
Safety in relation to physical and mental health 72
Sheet copper produced directly by electrolysis 194
Shenandoah-Dives meets changed conditions 133
Silicosis prevention and increased drilling efficiency 315
Simplicity and uniformity in technical nomenclature 72
Statistical comparison and calendar reform 604
Too liberal mining law retards mineral discovery 363
Transplanting engineers productive of new ideas 193
Trends in practice first spread locally 507
Trends with silver and iodine 365
Wage scale not the only labor cost factor 134
When acid-resistant equipment fails 255
Wise counsel for the learned 556
